

HOTELS

THE MAGAZINE OF THE WORLDWIDE HOTEL INDUSTRY

NEWS

Hot Openings: Art hotel comes to Denver's cultural district

By Brittany Farb on 8/31/2015

With a world-class art collection woven into the entire guest experience, The Art aims to complement Denver's arts and cultural district. The 165-key hotel features more than 40 unique, multi-sensory installations assembled by in-house curator Dianne Vanderlip.

The Art features more than 40 multi-sensory art installations.

and Sol LeWitt.

The hotel's restaurant, Fire, includes a lounge and a terrace serving innovative food and beverage options made with ingredients from local Colorado farms.

"With carefully selected works, we've truly compiled a collection of the highest caliber of art in any U.S. hotel," said

Each guestroom and suite has been curated with artwork from each floor's designated artists, including Claus Oldenberg, Tracey Emin, John Baldessari, Ed Rucha, Leo Villareal

Curator
Dianne Vanderlip.
"Over a period of two years we selected works and

Mountain view guest suite

Guest bathroom

commissioned pieces that will intrigue guests while responding to the hotels surroundings, which happens to be the best architecture in Colorado."

Fire's dining room

Fire's outdoor garden terrace

👤 Post a comment

Name

Subject

Comment